

Volunteer Form

The Celebration of Teaching & Learning brings thousands of K-12 educators representing all disciplines of study from 50 states to hear and learn from global experts across professions and fields of education about national and international trends in education. The world's leading experts, activists, academics and thinkers come together to expose teachers to international and national trends in instruction, education policy, and the latest research. Our volunteers play a very important role in the success of our event.

We encourage you to volunteer for as many blocks of time as possible. Please note that we are looking for responsible, reliable volunteers. Volunteers will have access to sessions when not assigned to a shift.

This year's conference will be held on March 6th-7th, 2009 at the Hilton New York, located at 1335 Avenue of the Americas. If you have any questions about volunteering, please contact our Volunteer Coordinator at volunteer@thirteencelebration.org. Thank you for your support!
